Origins and Early History of Korea

Prehistoric Korea

Long before Korea became the nation we know today, early humans inhabited the Korean Peninsula. Archaeological discoveries reveal that people lived here as far back as 700,000 years ago. These early settlers were hunter-gatherers, relying on hunting animals and gathering plants for food. Over time, they developed tools and learned to control fire, setting the stage for more complex societies.

The Formation of Ancient Korea

Around 2333 BCE, according to Korean legend, the first kingdom was founded by Dangun Wanggeom, often called the legendary founder of Korea. While this story blends myth and history, it symbolizes the beginning of Korean civilization. Historians believe that early communities started to organize into small states and tribes, gradually evolving into more structured kingdoms.

The Three Kingdoms Period (57 BCE ? 668 CE)

Goguryeo, Baekje, and Silla

During this era, three powerful kingdoms emerged on the Korean Peninsula:

- Goguryeo: Located in the north, Goguryeo was known for its military strength and vast territory. It was a major rival in East Asia and had contacts with China and Japan.
- Baekje: Situated in the southwest, Baekje was famous for its art, culture, and influence on Japan, especially in spreading Buddhism.
- Silla: Located in the southeast, Silla was initially weaker but eventually united the other kingdoms with the help of allies and became the first unified Korean kingdom in 668 CE.

This period was marked by frequent wars, alliances, and cultural exchanges, laying the groundwork for Korea's rich traditions.

The Unified Silla and Goryeo Dynasties

Unified Silla (668?935)
