noises.

- Smell: The aroma of freshly cooked meals, snacks, or the scent of outdoor grass and fresh air.
- Taste: The flavors of food?salty, sweet, savory, or sour?experienced through bites.

Integrating these details helps paint a comprehensive picture that transports the reader to that moment.

2. Setting Description

Creating a vivid setting involves describing the physical environment:

- The layout of the cafeteria or outdoor area
- The arrangement of tables and benches
- The weather conditions?sunny, rainy, windy?that influence lunchtime activities
- Decorations or school symbols present during mealtime

- Teachers or staff overseeing activities
- Individuals eating alone or reading

Dialogue brings characters to life, and action adds dynamism:
